PASS THE AMENDMENT.
The proposed amendment to the constitution offered in the House by belegate C. R. Coleman, of Spotsylania, which seeks to take from the facult court of that county the jurisdiction it now possesses to try uits against residents of Fredericksurg, or in other words, concurrent urisdiction with the Corporation ourt of this city, should be adopted, and we trust it will meet with the upport of Senator Sims. That projection of the Constitution should ever have been adopted, since it laced our people in the position of awing to go away from their home ity to defend suits brought against hem, a clear departure from the dening away this concurrent the large of the constitution to the fact that the flood of petitions now in the large of the constitution to fact that the flood of petitions now in the large of the constitution of the Constitution of the Constitution of the Constitution should ever have been adopted, since it laced our people in the position of aving to go away from their home lity to defend suits brought against them, a clear departure from the left English law, which provides for jury from the vicinage.

COL. J. E. WILLARD RESIGNS

A surprise at the Capitol, in Richmond, Friday, was the announcement that Gov. Mann had received a cable-gram from Paris tendering the resignation of Col. Joseph E. Willard as a member of the Corporation Commission. The Governor has not taken official action. The resignation was unexpected. Col. Willard left Richmond in haste two weeks ago alarmed by reports that the flood in France was affecting sections where he leared for the welfare of his family. Numerous letters have been received lately indorsing Col. Willard for reappointment as a member of the Corporation Commission. Woman Wrote Name on it Three Years Ago and Restaurant Man Got it. Oakland City, Ind., Feb. 14.—During the recent egg famine, E. S. Neff, a local restaurant keeper, purchased a number of cold storage eggs, on one of which he found a woman's address. Writing a letter to the woman, who gave Princeton, Ind., as her home, he received a reply from Evansville, asying the address had been placed on the egg three years ago, as the writer had been a resident of Evansville at that time, and further, ahe also said she had never placed her name on more than one egg.

than one egg.

Mr. Neff wrote to Dr. Harvey W.
Wiley, who some time ago stated that one year was the limit of usefulness of storage eggs, and gave him the proof of these eggs' age. Dr. Wiley in reply said that proof furnished by Mr. Neff had been placed with the subcommittee of congress that is investigating cold storage products.
